Richard Greenhalgh was appointed Chairman of Unilever UK in 1998; a business comprising several large companies and two research laboratories that manufacture some of the UK's best known brands including Dove, Persil, Flora, Knorr, Magnum and Cornetto and which between them generate an annual turnover of approximately £2.5 billion.

He has worked for Unilever for over 30 years, largely in Human Resources, including in Africa and Continental Europe and was previously Deputy Director of Personnel for Unilever plc.

Outside of Unilever, Richard is Chairman of the National College for School Leadership; Chairman of Templeton College Oxford; and President of the British Quality Foundation.

He is also Chairman of the CBI Pensions Strategy Committee, a member of the UK Governing Body of the International Chamber of Commerce, the CBI President's Committee, a Trustee of the Council for Industry and Higher Education and on the Board of the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority.
